

ELM Storage & Updates

Why is storing your Will correctly so important?

Choosing the right option to store your Will is essential as it must be kept in pristine condition. If damaged in any way, it may cause delays due to uncertainty and can even be declared invalid by the courts.

Your Will and any other Estate Planning documents guide your loved ones when you are no longer here. So, it's equally important that these documents are easy to locate for your Executors. If an original Will cannot be found, your loved ones must provide significant evidence to submit a copy, which causes delays and might not be accepted by the courts.

If your Will is destroyed, damaged or cannot be found, your assets will be distributed according to the Rules of Intestacy, which might not align with your wishes.

What are the benefits of our Storage & Updates package?

Where should you avoid storing your Will?

You should avoid storing your Estate Planning documents in certain places due to the risk of loss, damage, unauthorised access, or legal complications. Here are some places to avoid:

- At Home in Unsecured Locations: Storing your documents in easily accessible at home can lead to accidental loss, damage from fires, floods, or theft, and unauthorised access by family members or friends.
- Safe Deposit Boxes Without Proper Planning: While safe deposit boxes can be secure, they can become inaccessible upon your death if not properly arranged.
- With Friends or Family: Leaving your documents with friends or family may seem convenient, but it can result in disputes or complications if your loved ones disagree with your wishes or if your documents are misplaced or damaged.

Updating your Will

With a subscription to our Storage and Update Service, you receive unlimited updates to your Will. Several life events can signal the need to update your Will to ensure it reflects your current wishes and circumstances. Here are some common life events that should prompt you to review your Will:

- Marriage or Civil Partnership: When you get married or enter into a civil partnership, any existing Will becomes invalid unless it was made in anticipation of marriage. It is important to update your Will to reflect your new circumstances.
- Birth or Adoption of Children: Birth or adoption of children is a significant life event that often prompts individuals to update their Wills to name Guardians for their children and provide for their future.
- Purchasing New Property: If you acquire new property or move address, you should review your Will.
- Death of a Beneficiary: If a Beneficiary passes away, it's important to revise your Will to specify new Beneficiaries or redistribute assets.
- Change in Financial Situation: Significant changes in your financial circumstances, such as receiving an inheritance or winning the lottery, may require updates to reflect your new assets and possible tax implications.
- Retirement: As you approach or enter retirement age, you may want to ensure your Will reflects your current wishes.
- Changing Wishes: Over time, your personal values and wishes may change. Consider updating your Will to ensure it reflects your current beliefs and preferences regarding the distribution of your assets.

How will your Executors know where the Will is?

Your Executors play an important role so it's crucial you discuss your intentions when you name them in your Will. However, with your permission, we will send an Executor card out explaining exactly how they can access the Will when they need it.

When the times comes, we can also provide them with helpful guidance and resources to assist in their new role.

Don't worry, your Executors can't access your Will whenever they feel like it. We will only release your documents once we've received a valid death certificate.
